

WE'RE HIRING

TECHNICAL SALES REPRESENTATIVE

The Brett Group is one of Ireland's leading millers and grain merchants, handling 75,000 tonnes of native grain and marketing 160,000 tonnes of animal feed throughout the South East. We wish to recruit an experienced Technical Sales Representative to service an existing and expanding customer base.

Duties to include:

- Provide nutritional and technical backup on a range of farm inputs
- Working to agreed sales targets to grow market share
- Monthly account management

Candidate profile:

- Have technical knowledge, sales and advisory skills
- Willing to work hard to succeed in a rapidly changing market-place
- Previous commercial experience, with a proven track record, is preferable
- A qualification relevant to our industry is desirable but not essential
- Highly motivated and ability to work on own initiative as well as part of a team

We offer:

- Full product training and technical support will be provided
- The opportunity to join a successful and experienced technical sales team
- Attractive remuneration and pension package
- Fully serviced company car
